In The Dead Of Night is a collection of dark haiku by James Bryant. The poems explore themes of death, loss, and the supernatural. They are written in a spare and evocative style, and they offer a glimpse into the darker side of human nature.

Bryant's haiku are often unsettling and disturbing, but they are also beautiful and thought-provoking. He uses the haiku form to create a sense of tension and unease, and he often leaves the reader with more questions than answers.

The following are a few examples of Bryant's dark haiku:

- In the dead of night,
The moon casts a pale light,
On a lonely grave.

- A whisper in the wind,
Is it a ghost or friend,
Or just my own mind?
- In the dark forest,
Lost and all alone,
I hear a strange sound.

In The Dead Of Night is a powerful and haunting collection of poems. Bryant's haiku are sure to stay with you long after you have finished reading them.
