The First Half Of The Of The New Sun is an epic fantasy novel by Gene Wolfe, the first book in the four-volume The Book of the New Sun series. The novel follows Severian, a young apprentice in the torturer's guild, as he journeys across a dying world in search of the Autarch, the immortal emperor of the Solar System.

Severian's journey is one of self-discovery and redemption. He begins the novel as a broken and disillusioned man, but through his experiences he comes to understand the true nature of the world and his own place in it. The novel is a complex and challenging work, but it is also a rewarding one. Wolfe's writing is beautiful and evocative, and his characters are unforgettable.

The First Half Of The Of The New Sun is a must-read for fans of fantasy and science fiction. It is a classic of the genre, and it is sure to stay with you long after you finish it.

Gene Wolfe was an American science fiction and fantasy writer. He is best known for his The Book of the New Sun series, which won the Nebula Award for Best Novel in 1981. Wolfe's work is often praised for its complexity, richness, and originality.
